“Does your guitar have a story?”™

Why compromise with your passion in music by playing a guitar that lacks a soul? All Delgado guitars are hand-made using the traditions that third generation luthier Manuel A. Delgado was taught by his father and grandfather. A tradition that dates back to 1928. Whether you are an admirer of music or an artist, play on something that will help you stand out from the crowd. A guitar that is one in a million, not one of a million.
